Clearstar.net™ – What We Do

ClearStar.net provides Internet based technology solutions and services to some of the most predominant companies in the employment and tenant screening markets. Since the ground breaking introduction of our total Internet based Screening Management Solutions™, ClearStar.net has set the standard as the premier provider of Software-As-A-Service in the screening industry.

Who we do it for

ClearStar.net provides services to over 200 companies directly engaged in providing public records based screening services. There are over 40,000 companies registered as purchasers of screening services relying on ClearStar.net to help ensure that they get the information they need to make safe hiring decisions. An evaluation of user email accounts indicates that ClearStar.net touches a large percent of the Fortune 500.

How we do it

Strategy and development meetings at ClearStar.net always revolve around bringing the best Innovation to our independent Business Owners while holding true to our four foundation values:

Choice – We will provide our Business Owners with as many choices as possible to empower them to conduct their business in a manner that meets their tactical and strategic objectives.

Integrity – We as individuals, team members and strategic partners will conduct ourselves in a manner that exemplifies trust and confidence.

Security – We will protect the confidential information of our clients and their customers, not just technology solutions, but through our actions and communications.

Service – Well designed, industry leading software is only a vehicle to provide our true product-excellent customer service.

Why we do it

ClearStar.net has a strong collaborative family culture that operates in an environment of trust between team members and our customers. A day does not go by at ClearStar.net, where you will not hear the phrase, “Do the right thing.” Seeing it on paper does not do the term justice, but hearing it constantly reminds us that not only do our Business Owners rely on us, but people rely on us to do our part in providing a safer world for them and their families. A safer world is not just our commitment, it is our passion.
