ClearStar.Net Opens New Corporate Office in Alpharetta

Alpharetta, GA – November 10, 2009 – ClearStar.net, a leading technology provider for the employment and tenant screening industry, announced today the relocation of their corporate offices to Alpharetta, GA. The new, Forsyth County location will provide better access for staff and allow the company to improve service to clients.

The new offices are located in the Point Corporate Office Park on Shiloh Road in Alpharetta. ClearStar.net custom built the 5900 square of office and conference space including a new 24-seat training facility in the Alpharetta area to draw from the area's pool of technology professionals. All customer service, development, client support, and executive staff will be operating from this location.

The innovative and progressive design of the building is based on an open design that incorporates curved architectural walls and pocket doors to create a collaborative space around a central meeting point in the center of the building that also functions as the kitchen.

David Schroder of Schroeder Slater Architects of Atlanta and Ronnie Cupp of Catamount Contractors, Inc. were instrumental in the build out of the new facility.

“As demand for our services continues to grow, it became increasingly important for us to occupy a location that provided us with the space and the accessibility necessary to accommodate our growing staff,” stated R.J. Vale, CEO of ClearStar.net. “The new space also gave us an opportunity to create an environment that not only reflected our corporate culture of innovation, but provided a pallet that set the tone for our future development efforts.”

Customers and vendors can reach ClearStar.net at the new location at 6525 Shiloh Rd, Suite D-300, Alpharetta, GA 30005, effectively immediately. ClearStar.net can continue to be reached via by phone at 888.30.CLEAR or 770.416.1900.
